Critical Care 2010

Invitation

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to this Inaugural meeting for “Bedside Critical Care 2010”.

The inspiration for this initiative has arisen from two key needs. Firstly, a desire to have an educational meeting with a balance of short clinical updates reinforced with practical skill sessions. To this end we have planned a program comprising three streams:

Hemodynamic Monitoring Renal Replacement Therapy Ultrasound in the ICU

As you can see from the program we have assembled a group of hands-on clinicians to update us in how they manage their patients. The morning sessions are then brought to life at the bedside, with afternoon practical skills workshops.

The second need has been to provide an academic meeting that does not demand participants to forgo yet another of their precious weekends at home. The demands of our on-call already take us away from our homes and families so this meeting has been planned mid-week and in school holidays. The venue at Kingscliff has an excellent mix of world class conference facilities set in an environment that is relaxing and conducive to learning.

The seed funding for the meeting has been provided by the Northcare Foundation with administrative support from ANZICS and the College for Intensive Care Medicine. CME point accreditation and endorsement are being sought from the College.

I would strongly encourage you to come and update your practical skills and to bring your families.

Roger Harris
